TESTIMONIAL

(Doreen Maria Fenech/LSE2/Archbishop Seminary Minor)

This professional development program has greatly improved my teaching skills and understanding of early childhood education. By observing new and effective teaching methods in Nursery and Primary classrooms, I learned better ways to manage my class and make learning more engaging for young students. These strategies have helped me improve my daily teaching practices.

I also gained valuable knowledge about how children learn language. Learning about bilingual and multilingual teaching methods showed me how to better support students language and literacy development from an early age. These methods help children become more confident in speaking, reading, and writing.

The program also helped me understand how to meet the needs of all learners. I explored ways to include students with different learning abilities and cultural backgrounds. This has helped me create a more welcoming and fairer classroom for everyone.

Lastly, learning how to use digital tools and multimedia in the classroom was very useful. I now use these tools to make my lessons more interactive and student-focused, especially when supporting students in reading and other core subjects. Overall, this program gave me practical skills and ideas that I can use every day. It has made me more effective and thoughtful to my career.
