Maria Azzopardi, Year 4 Teacher, St Paul's Missionary College

I recently had the privilege of representing our school in an Erasmus+ professional development course organised by SfCE in Partizánske, Slovakia. The course, led by Mr James Cheater, focused on Maths Mastery and explored practical strategies that make mathematical concepts accessible and meaningful for all learners.

The sessions were highly interactive and hands-on, providing many opportunities for discussion, collaboration, and the sharing of good practices with fellow educators from different schools. These exchanges inspired us to reflect on our own teaching approaches.

This experience has encouraged me to look at mathematics from a different perspective moving beyond procedures to foster deeper conceptual understanding, mathematical thinking, and confidence in our students. I am excited to bring these ideas back to the classroom and share them with my colleagues so that together we can continue to strengthen the learning experiences we provide for our students.

A heartfelt thank you to SfCE, Erasmus+, and Mr James Cheater for such an enriching learning opportunity.
